

Arbitration Manager

(Spanish office)

Accurancy is looking for a disputes professional with 4-7 years' experience in international arbitration or complex local litigations to be based at our Spanish office.

If you are a skillful internationally minded professional, working in a Quantum role with significant exposure to expert witness work and you would like to grow and gain more responsibility, we have a Manager – Quantum role for you.

Profile and Requirements

- Degree in Finance and/or Engineering, with an accounting and valuation background
- 4-7 years of experience in quantum expert witness work in international arbitration
- Interest in developing a career specifically in expert witness work
- Analytical mind and clear structuring of complex ideas
- Finesse in report writing
- Fluency in Spanish and English – a third language is highly desirable
- International mindset
- Strong interpersonal skills and team spirit
- Curiosity, willingness to learn and continuously improve

Responsibilities and Duties

Your main duties will encompass carrying out detailed analysis for the preparation of expert witness reports, working closely with the leading expert.

You will be responsible for analysing data and documentation related to the disputes and will be involved in the process of writing expert reports based on your findings.

In the early stages, your role will be heavily weighted towards assisting the expert and drafting / writing sections of reports; however, in time the hope will be that you can grow into a client-facing role and develop the skills to become an independent expert in your own right, with a strong network within the legal sector.

We also expect that you will be able to:

- Actively coordinate less experienced team members and report to the engagement partner/director
- Manage communications with the client, with the support from the partner/director when required
- Actively provide support in training of analysts and associates on internal/external technical standards and industry developments.

About Accurancy

Accurancy is a top-tier independent advisory firm with offices all across Europe, Asia, Middle East, Africa and North America.
