

Job description

Internship @ Athos Capital – early-stage VC

Athos Capital is a venture fund investing in digital companies in their early stages (between Seed and Series A), focusing mainly on Spanish and European markets. Athos Capital has two offices: one in Madrid, and one in Barcelona.

Athos Capital is looking to recruit an intern with excellent communication skills and a passion for start-ups / technology / internet.

The internship will be paid, it will take place at the firm's Barcelona office and it will start ideally in Autumn 2021.

Required Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

- Team player with a positive attitude
- Passion for start-ups / Technology / Internet
- Excellent interpersonal skills, including ability to communicate clearly and concisely both orally and in writing
- Ability to work in a dynamic, deadline-driven environment with low to moderate supervision
- Hard working, detail-oriented, and committed to producing great end results

Essential Functions:

- Research and analyse target industries, gathering information on investment rounds and the invested companies' business models and technologies
- Research and analyse other VCs' portfolios; understand and draw conclusions on key industry trends
- Assist in scouting and analysing opportunities, deep diving into the relevant market, competition and technological aspects. Assist in drafting investment memos
- Assist in the main aspects of due diligence work
- Assist in monitoring portfolio companies, tracking metrics and helping companies' management teams by deep diving on certain topics (e.g. market, competition, investment round)
- Assist in investor reporting
- English + Spanish a must
- Previous work experience is a plus but not necessary

In case of interest, please reach out and send your CV and a brief cover letter to Giovanni Bologna at giovanni.bologna@athos-cap.com.

Looking forward to speaking to you!